

Goddess

Different faiths around the world are connected to Goddess's, in the West it is our lady and her correct name is the World Mother, she always appears in a long cloak and is very tall in appearance.

The world mother is one of the great teachers and when on your pathway to enlightenment she is never far behind, offering her Guidance into unlocking the Soul inspiration.

In the East there are many Goddess's the Green Tara is a female deity in both Hinduism and Buddhism and personifies compassion Tara manifests to everyone, not just Buddhists, Tara takes on many forms and to the Chinese Buddhists she is Guan Yin and personified compassion.

I believe that they all manifest from the same source appearing in their traditional robes of that country.
